MYLO

I'M BIG-TIME NOW!

HATZENBUHLER

This album is the ~~culminatio...cumila...cunmle...~~ result of the life-long dream that started the day Elvis Presley died. I was only 15, but I remember it like yesterday: I turned to my 5th grade teacher and said, "The world needs me."

I started on my road to stardom with no fans and no hit songs. I was strictly small time...but now, with more fans than I can count with my shoes on, and enough hit songs to make my own album, I can finally say...

I'M BIG-TIME NOW!

Mylo wishes to thank...
His band, "The Crop Failures"

James Jiskra, electric goiter
Rick Berge, base goiter
Bryan Bailey, drum
Terry Peffer, ~~saxp...six...sexe...~~horn
Janet Bauman, harmony vocals
Connie Nikiforoff, harmony vocals

Plow Man

Watch me dance on this one!

In the Coop

It used to be that when my friends said I was henpecked, I didn't know what they meant, but now I do.

Send in the Cows

I got bigger after this hit song.

Road Food Blues

I wrote this because I miss my wife's cooking when I'm traveling, and sunflower seeds are a poor substitute for a wife.

Country Bus

We live too far from school to go, so we take the bus.

The Ballad of New Salem

A song about one of the state's great landmarks, and a real tourist contraction, too.

Rock Around the Barn

Me and the boys were really smooth on this one, precise—just like custom combiners.

The Night the Cows Got Loose

A really scary song, because if you lose your cows, you've lost everything.

Monologue Between Two People

In my career as a rock star, I've met lots of famous people besides myself. This is from when I spent some time with the famous North Dakota composer, Greg Nelson, during our state Centennial. Greg was playing "North Dakota Scenes" on the piano when I got there.

The Green, Green Grass of Home Born at the PCA

This is a song you just can't forget, no matter how hard you try. For you city folks, PCA is Production Credit Association; they lend money to farmers, of which we need a lot of.
